Welcome to Rangely

In the White River Valley, nestled alongside the Book Cliff Mountains and among the high desert mesas of Northwest Colorado, the small community of Rangely offers a unique lifestyle and business opportunities for those seeking an escape from the day to day hustle and bustle of a big city.

Rangely offers the largest elk population in the world which winters nearby in Dinosaur National Monument and the one-of-a-kind International Center for Sonic Arts overlooking the White River. Whether you want to maneuver your 4-wheeler over the only designated rock crawling park on federal land, with more than 560 acres of natural terrain, or earn a degree in one of the several nationally-acclaimed programs at Colorado Northwestern Community College, you'll have direct access to resources few others enjoy.

Residents enjoy the advantages of rural life—peace and quiet, a star-filled sky, access to farm fresh eggs and local game, ample space for growing vegetables and raising animals. Kids enjoy the freedom to ride bikes around town, neighbors help each other, local shopkeepers provide everything from hardware to organic coffee beans with personal and helpful service, and people who make their home here value the easy entry to over a 1000 square miles of public land with diverse recreational opportunities. Hiking, biking, fishing, hunting, and boating are all just minutes away and two national forests are about an hour's drive.

While our isolated location protects the character and quality of the small town life we love, our high-speed fiber-optic network brings the world to our doorsteps at lightening speed. With online entertainment, shopping (if you can't find it locally), remote work opportunities, online education, and a stable internet network suitable for a business of any size at your fingertips, there's not much you'll miss while distant from the city. And when the city does beckon, whether you're traveling east or west, you'll enjoy several hours of exquisite scenery on the open road in a vehicle that sees very few commuting miles during the work week.

Whether you're looking for a place to call home, exploring ideas for your next adventure, or seeking the perfect location for your business, we hope you'll take the opportunity to discover Rangely!

Outdoor Recreation

Rangely is a place where you can truly unplug and unwind. Surrounded by 1.5 million acres of public lands and averaging 300 days of sunshine, getting outdoors has never been more accessible than it is here. Whether you enjoy motorized, non-motorized trail riding, water sports, fishing, hunting, camping, hiking, horseback riding or anything outdoors, we have year-round offerings! Just outside our peaceful town is Canyon Pintado National Historic District which encompasses over 16,000 acres of public land. In Canyon Pintado you can hike to Fremont and Ute Native American Tribes Rock Art sites dating back over 1,000 years. Minutes from town you can observe the magnificent Piceance/East Douglas wild horse herd and if you are lucky you may catch a glimpse of more elusive wildlife like black bears, bobcats, or mountain lions. Whether you prefer to shoot with a camera, bow, or rifle; elk, mule deer, and pronghorn antelope herds are nearby. Besides boating and water sports, Kenney Reservoir has laid claim as the best crappie fishery in Colorado! The White River runs through our backyard here in Rangely. Spend a relaxing day catching bass, catfish, or just floating with friends or family. Test your technical 4-wheel driving skills at the only designated natural rock park in Colorado – the Rangely Rock Crawling Park. An abundance of trails and county roads offers endless possibilities for OHV and ATV enthusiasts. Twenty minutes away from your doorstep you can explore the vast, rugged Dinosaur National Monument by car, on foot, mountain bike, or e-bike! The perfect time to get outdoors in Rangely is all the time. No matter the season, our high desert area beckons to those looking for unparalleled scenic beauty and perhaps a little adventure.

Trailblazing Technology

Rangely is one of two communities within Rio Blanco County that has the fastest internet in Colorado. In 2014 the County decided broadband was a critical tool to help lay a foundation to position itself as a modern, world class destination for tourism and business growth. Rangely is perfect not only for technology-based firms, but also for telecommuters, location neutral businesses and online based retailers which all require major modern broadband technology. Rio Blanco County is one of the first rural gigabyte counties in Colorado and the United States! Great broadband internet is critical for the region to maintain relevancy as a community.

4th of July Celebration

Rangely comes alive on the days leading up to the 4th of July. This patriotic community enjoys fun, family events planned by the local recreation district. Festivities kick off at Rangely's beautiful Cedar Ridges Golf Course with night golfing. Fireworks over stunning Kenney Reservoir, a Cajun boil with a concert, a 5k walk/run, a rib cook-off, pie contest, and a day in the park with inflatable water toys for the whole family! This four-day celebration has something for everyone!

SeptemberFest

Since the 1980s the annual event SeptemberFest has been a community favorite. In the early 80's Rangely's town square was the center of the SeptemberFest events. Dances, talent shows, and entertainment took place on a stage built next to the library. In the 90s a Miss Rangely pageant was held for Jr. high and high school aged young women, who would represent the festival in the parade and during the events. The bulk of SeptemberFest events largely take place at Rangely's beautiful and spacious Elk's Park now. A craft fair, parade, car show, food vendors, cribbage tournament, ice cream social, bull riding, concerts, and other events have been added to the schedule of events year after year. SeptemberFest has evolved throughout the years but without a doubt it remains uniquely Rangely, a place to visit with your neighbors, bid adieu to summer, and welcome fall.

ChristmasFest

Holiday traditions are an important part to building a strong bond between family, and our community. They give us a sense of belonging and a way to express what is important to us. Rangely's ChristmasFest is no exception. Fast becoming a holiday kickoff tradition within our beautiful community, ChristmasFest is a time for us to gather with our family, friends, and neighbors. The Western Rio Blanco Metropolitan Recreation and Park District plans many special activities that will get everyone into the holiday spirit! The festivities begin with the Rangely Area Chamber of Commerce's Elf on the Shelf Scavenger Hunt contest in local businesses. On the second Thursday of December, Rangely really shines with the Light Up Rangely, Christmas lights judging. The Chamber also holds a holiday window and Christmas tree decorating contests. On Friday enjoy free carriage rides and a chili dinner. A busy final day is planned for the second Saturday of December with the Breakfast with Santa event and the Snowflake Baby Contest, followed by Santa's Christmas Cookie Decorating and the Parade of Lights. If that's not enough holiday cheer, the conclusion of the festival is a holiday concert for the whole family on Saturday evening. Even the Grinch enjoys ChristmasFest and you will too!

Museums

Rangely is surrounded by history from the early boom day oil pump jacks to the archaeological site, historic Canyon Pintado. Rangely features two museums within its city limits full of history; Rangely Outdoor Museum and Rangely Automotive Museum. The Rangely Outdoor Museum boasts native peoples, pioneers and ranching, geology and paleontology, flora and fauna, and energy industry exhibits. A walk through this museum tells the story of the history of Rangely and the surrounding area. The Rangely Automotive Museum offers a collection that marvels in the long history of the automotive revolution and includes numerous automobiles that are exceedingly rare. Here you will find a breathtaking collection that is diverse in character and age. They have the perfect combination of cars and motorcycles that were so innovative that they influenced design and production for decades. Both museums are unique and unlike any other museums in the state.

The Tank Center for Sonic Arts

Constructed around 1940 as a railroad water-treatment facility, the Tank was moved by a utility company to Rangely in the mid-1960s. The bed of gravel upon which the tank was placed bowed its floor into a gentle parabola, giving it its remarkable acoustical resonance. In 1976, sound artist Bruce Odland was shown the place by two Rangely locals. Odland understood immediately that he had stumbled upon a treasure. For years after Odland's discovery, The TANK became a secret performance and recording space for a dedicated group of sound artists and musicians. Since 2015 The TANK has been drawing national acclaim. The TANK hosts dozens of reserved visits, recording sessions, artist residencies, and performances. "Open Saturdays" give residents and visitors a chance to experience the majestic resonant sounds that you can only encounter at the TANK.

Welcome to Rangely!

Rangely, Colorado is a small town located in Northwest Colorado. We are a quiet town, with a very low crime rate and low cost of living where neighbors become your family. Our residents enjoy peaceful days, clean air and dark skies with views of the Milky Way and shooting stars at night. We are located approximately 20 miles from Dinosaur National Monument on the Dinosaur Diamond.

All the necessities of life are available to include Rangely District Hospital, Western Rio Blanco Metropolitan Recreation Center, newer schools with small class sizes and the latest in technology, an immaculate nine-hole golf course, fiber-optic internet and several beautiful parks.

Rangely is home to Colorado Northwestern Community College (CNCC) where residents of Rangely receive tuition assistance.

Our community is an outdoor enthusiasts dream, offering a unique lifestyle for those seeking an escape from the city. Adventures are literally right out your backdoor and not hours away in miles of traffic.

We have the only natural rock crawling park in the state of Colorado as well as hundreds of miles of OHV Trails. The White River is available for fishing and rafting and Kenney Reservoir for any water sport you desire.

Public lands, which surround our community, were home to the Ute and Fremont Indians from 1200 to 1881 A.D. They left behind magnificent Rock Art which is readily available for viewing.

If you enjoy the arts you will love "The TANK." The TANK, which is a Center for Sonic Arts, is an acoustical wonder with a reverb more extraordinary than the Taj Mahal.

The Chamber hosts seven (7) events throughout the year to include ROAR, Rally Colorado and Colorado Hill Climb.

We are proud of our community! As you can see we have it all!

We look forward to having you as a resident!

Andy Shaffer, Mayor

Lisa Piering, Town Manager

Richard Smith, Chamber Exec. Director
