Rangely Colorado Location Overview

Rangely, Colorado is a small town situated in Colorado's Great Northwest Region along Highway 64 and the Dinosaur Diamond Scenic Byway.

We are only minutes from the Canyon Pintado Historic District, 20 miles from Dinosaur National Monument, as well as home to the only natural Rock Crawling Park in Colorado.

Rangely is 25 miles from the Utah border, 70 miles from Grand Junction, Colorado, 220 miles from Salt Lake City and 275 miles from Denver.

Proximity to both Denver and Salt Lake City increases direct to market ability with connections to every major hub in the US and around the world.

CURRENT SITUATION

As with much of western Colorado, Rangely is undergoing changes to their economic landscape. Economic diversification and preparations for the future are underway.

Rangely has a workforce of skilled workers in the trade industry as well as an educated workforce. We are fortunate to have a local community college which educates and prepares an ongoing workforce.

Currently our focus has been identifying new industries which fit with the workforce and demographics.

In addition, we offer incredible outdoor recreational opportunities and there is opportunity to expand on these opportunities economically.

Rangely Social Overview

Local Government Institutions – The Town of Rangely operates under a council/manager form of government. This system of government combines the strong political leadership of elected officials in the form of a council, with the managerial experience of an appointed local government manager. The current Town Manager has been in place since 2018, creating a culture of accountability, efficiency, professionalism and achievement. The mission of the Town leadership is to promote the Town of Rangely's lifestyle by providing innovative and service-oriented leadership for a vibrant community.

Rio Blanco County Rio Blanco County is a Colorado statutory county government operating under the direction of the Board of County Commissioners. The three member board represents all citizens of the county. The board has divided the areas of operation among the commissioners with each commissioner having specific assignments. The Board has several staff members working under their direction who are appointed by the Board of County Commissioners. The County is in an outstanding fiscal position and considers maintenance of a business-friendly environment to be a top priority.

Economic Development

RDA is an acronym for “Rangely Development Association.”

The RDA covers Main Street and one block off of Main Street. The RDA is an Urban Renewal Authority.

The goals of the RDA are:

“The goals and objectives of the plan are to undertake programs and activities for the elimination and prevention of blight in this community. Such programs and activities, among other things, shall lead to the revitalization and growth of the business district, create an atmosphere that fosters entrepreneurship among local businesses and residents, and has as the final goals the increased health and prosperity of the entire Rangely community, all in cooperation with the private sector.”

RDC is an acronym for “Rangely Development Corporation.”

The RDC is a corporation organized and operating for charitable purposes with Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and any corresponding provision of subsequent laws.

The purpose of the corporation is to relieve economic distress and prevent community deterioration through assisting and promoting growth and development to business concerns in the Western portion of Rio Blanco County, the boundaries of said area being identical to the boundaries of the Rangely School District RE-4.

Further to implement said purpose, the corporation shall have the power and authority to do and perform any lawful acts, engage in any lawful activity, and to coordinate its efforts with that of the Town of Rangely and the RDA, a Colorado urban renewal authority.

The Department of Local Affairs' (DOLA) Colorado Main Street Program designated the Town of Rangely as an official Main Street community in July 2020. Rangely joins 20 other cities and towns in the Colorado Main Street Program, which offers support for community-led downtown revitalization and helps communities thrive by providing a customizable framework to focus efforts, energy and resources to create a more vibrant community.

Colorado Main Street is a Main Street America™ Coordinating Program. As a Main Street America™ Coordinating Program, Colorado Main Street helps to lead a powerful, grassroots network of over 40 Coordinating Programs and over 1,200 neighborhoods and communities across the country committed to creating high-quality places and to building stronger communities through preservation-based economic development.
